

Symposium in honor of Friedrich EHRENDORFER (1927 – 2023)

Friday, February 28th 2025, 13:00 to 19.00 in the lecture hall of the Department of Botany and Biodiversity, University Vienna
 1030 Vienna, Rennweg 14

13:00-13:20	Opening & welcome	Chair
13:20-13:40	Similarity, phylogenetic relationships and classification: A new classification of Gentianaceae-Swertiinae	Joachim Kadereit	Univ. Mainz (retired) & Univ. München
13:40-14:00	History of botanical research: achievements and caveats	Tod Stuessy	Univ. Vienna (retired) & Univ. Ohio
14:00-14:20	Floristic mapping of the Alpine flora	Stefan Eggenberg	InfoFlora Switzerland
14:20-14:40	Pollination syndromes and pollinator shifts in Melastomataceae	Constantin Kopper	Univ. Vienna
14:40-15:00	Genome evolution in Capsicum	Hanna Schneeweiss	Univ. Vienna
15:00-15:30	Coffee break
15:30-15:50	Colonisation of deglaciated areas by polyploid complexes: Galium pusillum complex and beyond	Filip Kolar	Univ. Prague
15:50-16:10	My research on Achillea with support from Professor Ehrendorfer	Yanping Guo	Beijing Normal Univ.
16:10-16:30	Reticulate evolution and diversification of Knautia	Božo Frajman	Univ. Innsbruck
16:30-16:50	Species delimitation in polyploids: case studies in Salix and Ranunculus	Elvira Hörandl	Univ. Göttingen
16:50-17:10	The symbiotic design of lichens	Martin Grube	Univ. Graz
17:10-17:40	Coffee break
17:40-18:00	Botany in the tropics	Daniel Schaber	Univ. Vienna
18:00-18:20	Friedrich Ehrendorfer als Universitätslehrer	Walter Hödl, Alexander Franz	Univ. Vienna (retired), Med Univ. Vienna
18:20-19:00	Aus der Familiengeschichte der Ehrendorfers	Luise Ehrendorfer & al.	Univ. Vienna (retired)
19:00-19:15	Closing remarks	Chair
19:15	Buffet

In case you have not yet registered please register via e-mail to josef.greimler@univie.ac.at